PRELIMINARY STATISTICAL SUMMARY OF 1999-2000 COMMISSION GRANT PROGRAMS

For academic year 1999-2000, the Commission received over 690,000 Cal Grant applicant records.

To determine which applicant records should be entered into the Financial Aid Processing System (FAPS), the Commission uses a series of edits. These edits, referred to as pre-FAPS edits, include removal of duplicate applications, applications received after the deadline, applications that failed federal edits, and applications where financial data was not released to the State.

As a result of the pre-FAPS edits, the number of new 1999-2000 Cal Grant applicants entered into FAPS totaled 396,700, about 20,000 (5 percent) more than the 1998-99 level of 376,706 applicants (see Table 1 and Figure 1). Of the 396,700 new Cal Grant applicants, 133,845 (or 33.7 percent) had financial need and met eligibility requirements for at least one of the three undergraduate Cal Grant programs (Cal Grants A, B, and C) and the one post-baccalaureate Cal Grant program (Cal Grant T). This figure represents 6,000 fewer eligible applicants than in 1998-99.

Eligible Applicant Pool

Since the Commission adopted the use of the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) in 1993-94, the number of grant program applicants has risen dramatically. This is largely attributable to the fact that the FAFSA, which is free to all applicants, is available as a single application for state, federal, and school-based financial aid. Prior to the introduction of the FAFSA, students were faced with a confusing array of applications and processes that often failed those students with the most financial need.

¹ "Eligible applicant" indicates a student who has met eligibility criteria for at least one of the Cal Grant Programs and has met minimum financial need criteria and income and asset ceilings. Beginning in 1998-99, this number includes applicants eligible for the Cal Grant T program.

² Beginning in 1998-99, the number of available grants includes 2,200 Cal Grant T awards.

³ Cal Grant A Reserve award recipients are included in this count.

While there has been a general increase in the number of applicants, there have been annual fluctuations in both the number of applications and the number of eligible applicants.

The applicant pool is affected by both internal and external factors. The internal factors, such as processing and eligibility changes are simpler to monitor than the external factors. For instance, in 1993-94, the Commission began using the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA). The number of applicants increased by 48,000; the number of eligible applicants as a percent of all applicants dropped from 65.5 to 35.5 percent. The change in percentage can be attributed to at least two factors – a less targeted applicant pool and exclusion of college seniors from Cal Grant competition. Another fluctuation occurred in 1994-95 when the Commission extended the Cal Grant deadline due to the Northridge, California earthquake. The increase in both the number of applicants and the number of eligible applicants were a result of that processing change. Another example of internal influences occurred in 1995-96 when the Commission instituted a policy requiring eligible Cal Grant A applicants to have financial need equal to the maximum segmental award, plus an additional $1,500. Prior to this, eligible applicants were only required to have a need figure that was equal to the segmental maximum award. As a result, there were 7,600 fewer eligible applicants.

Internal factors notwithstanding, the number of eligible applicants as a percent of the total applicant pool appears to fluctuate with the State's economy. From 1987-88 to 1992-93, eligible applicants accounted for at least half of the total applicant pool. From 1993-94 forward, the percent of eligible applicants has ranged between 44.3 and 34.3 percent of the total applicant pool. While this year's percentage (34.3) is the lowest in the past twelve years, it is perhaps an indication of a thriving economy.

Correction Process

In 1998-99, the Commission instituted a new correction process, which allowed Cal Grant applicants to make corrections to the information they put on their FAFSAs. That process was continued for 1999-2000 applicants.

Under the correction process, the Commission notified over 115,000 applicants of their initial disqualification from the Cal Grant competition and advised them that they had until May 14, 1999 to correct their application data. About 9,000 students returned correction forms.

In addition, the Commission sent correction notifications to 45,874 applicants whose Institutional Student Information Record (ISIR) information did not contain an Expected Family Contribution (EFC). Of this number, 22,155 applicants corrected their Student Aid Report (SAR) and were reconsidered for an award.

As in the prior year, the Commission reserved 6,000 Cal Grants for the 1999-2000 correction process. With all of the corrected applications entered into the pool, the award selection process was run using the initial score cut-offs for the year. As a result of the 1999-2000 correction process, an additional 3,600 applicants received Cal Grant awards.

The Commission later received a budget augmentation that increased the number of new Cal Grant awards by 9,389, from 47,865 to 57,254. To allocate these awards, the Commission ran an additional Cal Grant award cycle in July 1999.

Figure 2 compares the number of new Cal Grant applicants eligible to compete for at least one of the three undergraduate and one post-baccalaureate Cal Grant programs with the authorized number of new Cal Grants (57,254). About one out of three applicants in this tightly restricted pool received Cal Grant aid.

GPA Verification Process

The 1999-2000 grade point average verification process was the same as that for 1998-99, wherein schools could submit electronic GPAs, or students could submit individual GPA forms. GPA verifications were due by the established March 2 Cal Grant deadline.

The Commission received a total of 785,725 GPA verifications (including duplicates) for 1999-2000, over 69,000 (10 percent) more than the 716,341 verifications submitted in 1998-99. The number of matching Cal Grant applicants totaled approximately 154,000, as compared to 140,000 matches in 1998-99.

The number of GPA verifications has been steadily increasing over the past several years, largely because more schools are sending GPAs electronically, and those schools are submitting records for a less focused group of their students.

Income Ceilings

The Commission increased the Cal Grant income ceilings for the 1999-2000 academic year. For dependent Cal Grant A and C applicants, families of three or fewer could have an income of up to $54,500 and remain eligible for an award. Families of four could have an income of up to $59,000; families of five could have an income of up to $63,500; and families of six or more could have an income of up to $68,700.

For dependent Cal Grant B applicants, the income ceilings for 1999-2000 were as follows: a family of two could have an income of up to $25,975; a family of three could have an income of up to $29,288; a family of four could have an income of up to $32,601; and a family of five or more could have an income of up to $35,915.

For independent Cal Grant applicants, single independent students could have an income of up to $22,689 in 1999-2000, and independent, married students could have an income of up to $25,975.

Asset Ceilings

The asset ceilings remained unchanged for 1999-2000 Cal Grant applicants. The asset ceiling for dependent applicants' families and independent applicants with children was $42,000, and the asset ceiling for independent students without children was $20,000. The asset ceiling methodology is currently under review to determine if an annual adjustment should be adopted.

Cal Grant C Application Process

Applicants who are ineligible for Cal Grants A and B but eligible for Cal Grant C are sent Cal Grant C Supplements. Of the 19,400 initial supplements sent out, 7,815 were returned. An additional 2,053 Cal Grant C supplements were sent out as a result of the correction process. Nearly 800 were returned to the Commission. The 1999-2000 score cutoff for Cal Grant C recipients was 69.

Cal Grant T Program

With the approval of the California State Legislature, the Governor created the Cal Grant T program in 1998-99 to cover the tuition and fee costs for California residents with baccalaureate degrees to obtain initial teaching credentials. The Governor's Budget allocated $10 million dollars to cover up to 3,000 one-year, Cal Grant T awards. For 1999-2000, there were 2,098 new Cal Grant T recipients.

The Governor has proposed that the Cal Grant T program be eliminated in 2000-01 and the $10 million be redirected to the Cal Grant A, B, and C programs.

Graduate Fellowship Program

The Commission continues to phase out the Graduate Fellowship program, providing funds to just 258 renewal recipients in 1999-2000. The Graduate Fellowship program was replaced by the Graduate Assumption of Loans Program for Education in 1998-99.

Assumption Program of Loans for Education (APLE)

The APLE program received a substantial increase in award allocations for both 1998-99 and 1999-2000. In 1998-99 the passage of Senate Bill 1564 expanded the program from 500 warrants (commitments from the State to assist with loan payments) to 4,500, including 500 warrants to be used to recruit out-of-state teachers. The bill also extended the loan assumption benefits from three to four years and increased the total loan assumption amount from $8,000 to $11,000. For 1999-2000, the number of APLE awards was increased to 5,500 warrants.

Thus far, the Commission has awarded 4,153 warrants to applicants from participating institutions with teacher preparation programs and will continue to accept applications for the 1999-2000 academic year until all 5,000 in-state warrants have been issued.

Graduate Assumption Program of Loans for Education (Graduate APLE)

The Graduate APLE program, which was created in 1998-99 to replace the Graduate Fellowship program, provides loan assumption benefits of up to $6,000 to recipients who provide three years of service as a full-time faculty member at California colleges or universities. The Commission is authorized to make up to 500 Graduate APLE awards each academic year.

The Commission has currently issued 179 warrants from the 197 applications it received for the 1999-2000 academic year.

Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship

The Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship is a federally-funded program that provides an annual grant of $1,500 for up to four years of undergraduate study. In 1999-2000, 789 of the 1,660 new applicants for the Robert C. Byrd Honors Scholarship program received awards.

Child Development Teacher and Supervisor Grant Program

The Child Development Teacher and Supervisor Grant Program targets students who intend to teach or supervise in the field of child care and development in a licensed children's center. Recipients at two-year institutions may receive up to $1,000 per academic year and those at four-year institutions may receive up to $2,000 per year. All recipients must agree to provide one full year of service in a licensed child care center for each year they receive the grant.

Of the 231 students who applied for the Child Development Grant Program in 1999-2000 academic year, 41 received awards. Funding priority is given to renewal recipients within the program. For 1999-2000 there were 63 renewal recipients. The remaining funding determined the number of new recipients.

Law Enforcement Personnel Dependents Grant Program

The Law Enforcement Personnel Dependents Grant Program (LEPD) is designed for dependents or spouses of peace officers, corrections or youth authority officers, and firefighters who were killed or totally disabled in the performance of duty. For the 1999-2000 academic year, there was one new LEPD recipient and ten renewal recipients.

Eligible Cal Grant Applicants Compared to Number of Awards

Figure 3 illustrates the distribution of eligible dependent applicants versus awarded dependent applicants based on family income ranges. In 1999-2000, 57.4 percent of applicants from families with incomes of less than $12,000 received awards; 51.1 percent of applicants from families with incomes in the $12,000 to $24,000 range received awards; 42.3 percent of applicants from families with incomes in the $24,000 to $36,000 range received awards; and 47.4 percent of applicants from families with incomes in the $36,000 to $48,000 range received awards. Over half of those whose parents earned more than $48,000 received a Cal Grant. Figure 3 also shows that only 29.0 percent of independent applicants received Cal Grant aid.

These variations are the result of the GPA selection criteria in Cal Grant A, as well as the Cal Grant B scoring system which takes into account the applicant's income, family size, family background, and GPA.

New Cal Grant Award Maximums

For 1999-2000, the State funded a $384 increase in new Cal Grant tuition and fee award maximums for Cal Grant A and B recipients at independent institutions and private career colleges (proprietary), from $9,036 to $9,420 (see Table 2). Due to a five percent fee reduction at the UC and CSU, award maximums were reduced to $3,429 and $1,428 respectively. Although provided for in statute, maximum awards at the UC and CSU were limited to systemwide fees. Cal Grant B subsistence awards, Cal Grant C tuition and fee maximums, and book and supply allowances remained unchanged.

Grade Point Average and Score Cutoffs

As a result of a legislative change in 1998-99 (SB 2064, Statutes of 1998), the Commission now awards Cal Grant A and B in accordance with new policies that ensure that the score cutoffs are no more stringent for community college transfer students attending a four-year institution than for first-time freshmen.

All Cal Grant A applicants, including entering freshmen, college sophomores, and both transferring and non-transferring juniors, required a 3.09 GPA to receive an award in 1999-2000 (see Table 3).

The Cal Grant B score cutoff for first-year applicants planning to attend a community college as freshmen was 47 for the 1999-2000 academic year. The Cal Grant B score cutoff for first-year applicants and community college transfer students planning to attend four-year colleges as freshmen was 59.

As a result of the processing change described in the section on the Cal Grant C application process, the score cutoffs for Cal Grant C applicants have varied in recent years. In 1999-2000, the cut-off score was 69.

Segmental Distribution of New Cal Grant Recipients

From 1998-99 to 1999-2000, the percentage of new Cal Grant A recipients attending the California State University rose from 26.2 percent to 29.6 percent, while those attending the University of California fell from 38.6 percent to 35.1 percent (see Tab 2, Table 2 in the "Preliminary Grant Program Statistics"). The proportion of Cal Grant recipients attending independent colleges and universities stayed relatively unchanged at 29.3 percent.

One of the Cal Grant B program provisions requires that at least half of new Cal Grant B recipients attend community colleges. This necessitates a separate applicant pool and point cutoff for two- and four-year students. In 1999-2000, 56 percent of new awards were offered to students who planned to attend community colleges; 23.8 percent were offered to students who planned to attend a California State University campus; 16.2 percent were offered to students who planned to attend the University of California; and 2.7 percent were offered to students who planned to attend an independent institution.

The distribution of new Cal Grant C students remained relatively unchanged from academic year 1998-99 to 1999-2000 with 60.3 percent of Cal Grant C recipients at community colleges; 27.7 percent at private career colleges; and 11.8 percent at an independent college or university.
